Community and Business partnerships- Nate Bruckner and S. Simpson has secured a $6,800 donor for second semester Singapore Math Books. However, this funding will not be ongoing. Therefore, they are proposing a type of fundraising committee. Janine Jones, after talking to the School of Excellence committee recommended we brainstorm a list of business we can partner with for a variety of support. Was suggested we look at classroom needs and match those needs with business partners. We can also look at prior supporters. It was discussed that marketing to parents of children who go to this school are probably are best target. Amber Del Tufo suggested that perhaps we could ask each student for a suggested donation for the math curriculum. Preface this request with knowledge of the history of the curriculum that drove us to adopt this Singapore curriculum.
