Discipline Data- Mr. Evans shared an overview of this year's discipline data specifically the reduction in the number of ISS and OSS days this school year in comparison to last school year. Mr. Evans reports this is largely due to the interventions teachers have implemented as well as administrative strategies which include frequent contact with parents. Additionally, the use of an afterschool Friday detention is serving as a deterrent for some as well as the use of a time out room which has been instrumental in addressing tardies. Overall, time out of class for behavioral reasons seems to be down.
