V. Principal's Report

- K-5 Iready Testing Window

November 29th - December 17th - Winter Diagnostic window. A schedule will be shared. Remind students, by having class and/or data chats about their required time needed on Iready Reading & Math each week. District sets the weekly goal as 45 minutes for each subject with students passing their lessons. If students reach this goal each week they will progress through the program, their individualized learning path, and the result is better diagnostic scores and reaching their expected growth. If this information is shared with students, they will then know the reason for this work.

How many times as a student do you remember asking yourself, "Why am I needing to do this assignment, or why am I learning this?" Once you knew the work seemed easier. If students are absent and they have access to a computer, suggest to the parent that if the student feels up to it, work on their Iready lessons.

- Welcome Back Volunteers

- Volunteers are a crucial part of the school environment during the course of the school year. Each school has a procedure in place to welcome volunteers to their campus when such needs arise. Please contact your child's school to ensure that you have identified your willingness to serve as a volunteer when needed.
- Civic groups and community organizations are also welcomed back at this time to our campuses. As in the past, please pre-arrange with the school administration of your desire to work with our students and support our schools.
- Lunch visitation procedures will be determined by each school and their capacity to accommodate guests. SDIRC asks that only one guest per student visit for the 30 minute lunch period. We want to make every effort to not impose on instructional time, so we ask that the guest arrive promptly at the beginning of the 30 minute lunch period.
- SDIRC schools will return to holding on-campus school activities, recognition ceremonies and other special events in which parents and guests will be allowed to attend.
- Classroom visits and meetings/conferences with staff members will also be resumed on campus in accordance with School Board Policy.
