PIE EXTRACURRICULAR PROGRAMS

Audubon Advocates:

This after school lagoon science education program is for 5th grade students. It addresses nature deficit disorder by getting children outside and active, kayaking on the lagoon, exploring trails and habitat on conservation areas. Students learn respect and leadership skills, outdoor and science skills, and required science vocabulary words.

Eco Troop:

This program encourages girls to learn about the environment and how to protect it, while helping to build confidence, character, and leadership skills.

Robotics:

Students use LEGOs, Spheros, and Makeblock robots to build coding skills. They also complete STEM project-based learning activities that foster lifelong skills in teamwork, leadership, and communications.

Saturday Science Camp:

Science and other STEM related concepts are learned through hands-on activities, to help develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Garden Club:

Students learn about nutrition education, gardening, and gain hands-on experience growing their own food.

Flyboys:

This program for boys helps to develop positive relationships and build strong character, while participating in hands-on STEM related activities.
